NECCOURIER

"Give instruction to a wiseman, and he will be yet wiser: teach a just man and he will increase in learning.
"The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom:
and the knowledge of the holy is understanding."

Proverbs 9:9,10

Welcome-- NCC--1967-68

"We are students of Nebraska Christian College and we're proud that we can say,

It's a college where the word of God is honored and Its mandates we obey. Preach the Word in all its fullness and its beauty, for the Gospel we must know; Heeding then the Saviour's great commission; He commands, we must go!"

THIS IS NCC--1967-68

The story of laughter, tears, ballgames, parties, friendships, classes, prayer, commitments, and dedicated lives.

By being able to fly to speaking engagements, the promotion team---Elery & Emery Killian and Audrey McKean---with Mr. Sapp were able to make more contacts for the school.

"This is our new campus!" beams Mr. Sapp as he points to plans which show the layout of the new campus site.

"We received a commitment from this church last Sunday," points out Mr. Sapp on his wall chart which shows the commitments given by area churches so far.

... and how shall they hear without a preacher? And how shall they preach except they be sent? . . . Romans 10: 14b - 15a

This portion of Scripture fittingly describes the purposeful work of the man to whom we dedicate our annual, Mr. Lloyd Sapp. As Director of Development he works endlessly to encourage young people to attend a Bible College and establish their life on a Christian foundation.

He also devotes many hours of his time and energy to the expansion program for the new campus.

May God bless you, Mr. Sapp, and your efforts for Nebraska Christian College.

The Builders. . . .

Nebraska Christian College is on the move! The Board of Trustees is prayerfully and tirelessly planning in an effort to see a new campus as a reality, not a dream. Under their leadership many momentous steps have been taken to bring this about. These men realize the increasing need for spreading the gospel here and to all parts of the world. They know the only way to meet this need is to prepare more young people for Christian service and send them to the "fields white to harvest." We, the students of Nebraska Christian College, are grateful to the Board of Trustees and their concern.

Decisions, Decisions, Decisions! With the expansion program the board, under the chairmanship of Mr. J.E. Contois of Neligh, faces many important decisions that affect the future of NCC.

Building Better . . .

You are always met by a cheerful smile from Diane Enders as you enter the college office. Diane is secretary to the dean, college receptionist, and in charge of the book store.

Kay Burnham, Assistant Director of Development, and Maggie Young, secretary of the Development Office, enjoy their work of promoting the school.

A typical day for Ila Belle Henning (seated) as secretary to the president and Mrs. Olive (Milner) Duhon as bookkeeping is filled with office work. Dave Keller assumed this position the first of March when Mrs. Duhon left.

. . .and Lasting. . .

Mr. Sapp serves as head of the Development Department. He devotes many hours to find new and different ways to promote the school.

Besides doing the usual librarian work, Mrs. Stanley Porter, who works in the mornings, helps the faculty members by typing tests.

Cramming? Writing a term paper? Finishing a last-minute assignment? Out of the 11,000 books in the library, students can usually find what they need for each situation.

Opening the library is the early morning task of Carol Wilson (left) who works part-time in the library. Mrs. Reuben Klein (right) serves as librarian in the evenings.

... Relationships

Do you need to find a particular book? Mrs. Alan Weber, afternoon librarian, is always ready to help you.

"Do you always smile while you work, Pop?" As custodian Pop Chitwood labors many hours to keep the school building clean.

Physical Growth

"I LOVE to cut meat" exclaims Carol with a gleam in her eye as she cuts a roast for dinner.

Getting dishpan hands, Audrey?

"Who said S.O.S. will take off burned-on food?"

Hurrying to fill trays for the flood of hungry students at noon, are Audrey McKean (left), Sharon Fletcher, Sharon Blake, and Carol Dietz.

"Oops, you missed a spot!" Wiping off the tables is "Millie" Cousins who joined the kitchen staff second semester.

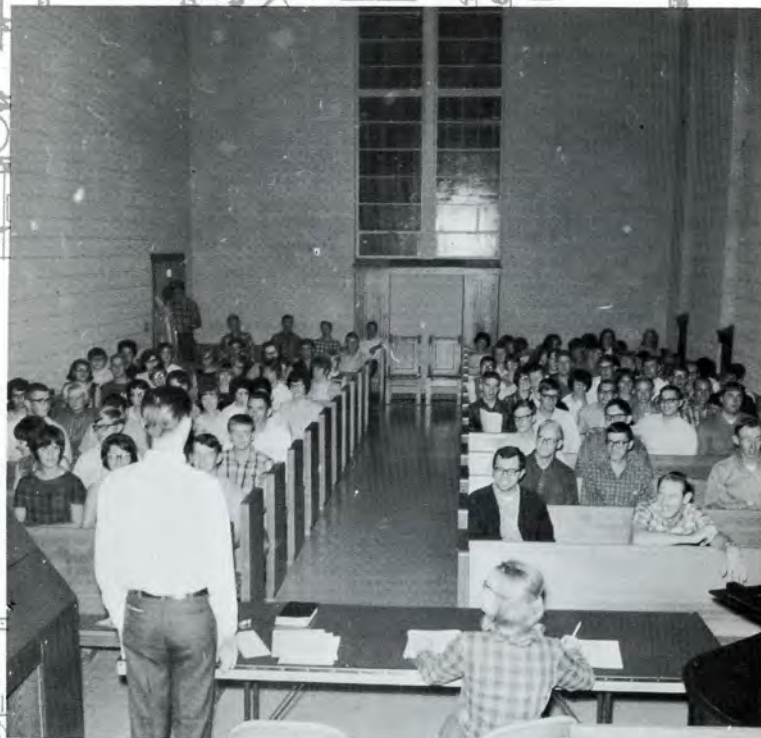

Carol Dietz heads the kitchen staff and is greatly appreciated by all the students.

Building A Home-Like Atmosphere

Mom and Pop Chitwood's door is always open to make the boys feel at home.

Giggles, screams, and chatter are a few of the things Lee and Jo Ann Utterback hear as dorm parents in the big girls' dorm.

Besides working in the school office, Dave Keller and his wife, Virginia, are parents in the little girls' dorm.

Perry Donner greets dorm parents, Bill and Arlene Hallsted as they come to inspect his room.

Beginning the Year:

"Which roll shall I take?" seems to be the question pondered by a couple of the girls as they go through the line for the breakfast at TaHaZouka the first week of school.

"Put your rinds over here!" says Jim Price at the watermelon party held one evening after students had arrived.

"Hey, you forgot your bat!" laugh the girls as they watch the boys playing ball after the breakfast.

After eating their fill of watermelon the students pause for an inspirational time of songs and devotion.

Sharon Blake seems to be enjoying taking money from the new students as they buy books for their 1st semester classes.

Freshmen Become

"I crown you Queen Ila Belle!" says Jim Blake as Jim Price looks on. The first thing new students did initiation day was to receive a sack to wear.

Invaders from outer space? No, just the freshmen students hunting for their lunch tickets from the seniors.

The freshmen aren't really being kidnapped....just being transported to a secret destination for their initiation ritual.

Seated on the floor the freshmen enjoy watching their classmates being initiated, and also wonder what is in store for them.

Officially Accepted

Some of the nervous freshmen gathered in the lounge while waiting to receive their orders from the seniors.

"Do I HAVE to kiss your foot?" groans Mary Claude to senior Maggie Young. It's all part of initiation.

"Back in your second childhood, boys?" The race is on as the boys see who can finish a baby bottle full of milk first.

"Oh John, you shouldn't in public!" squeals Mary Claude as she is deceived in one of the games at initiation

Looking to the Year Ahead

The sanctuary at First Christian Church begins to fill up with people who have come many miles to share in the Founder's Day Program.

Mr. Bob Evans from Logan, Iowa, inspired morning listeners with his message.

Those in attendance were uplifted by the message of Jim Caton from Burleson, Texas, who is an alumnus of the college.

People gather in the foyer of First Christian Church following the afternoon session to talk to old friends and meet new ones.

Students Prepare. . .

"Joyce would you read verses 10-12 for us?" asks Mr. Johnson during Pauline Epistles class.

Taking notes is part of every class as Linda Skidmore demonstrates in another of Mr. Johnson's classes.

Students come to Nebraska Christian College for various reasons---to strengthen their faith, to learn how to become church leaders, to become ministers, to increase musical ability, to gain a basic knowledge of the Bible, to learn how to be better witnesses, etc. Regardless of their reason they can accomplish their goal with the concerned help and guidance of our qualified faculty under the classes in Christian Education, Ministerial, Music, Theology, Missions, and Bible. Classes in liberal arts are taken at the Norfolk Junior College near by.

Trouble with Greek, Emery and Larry? Mr. Swedburg is always willing to help students with any questions.

The prophets' class listen intently as Mr. Swedburg vividly describes the life of Jeremiah.

Part of second year homiletics includes instructions for a baptismal service. Mr. Burkum watches as Dan King baptizes Jerry Dietz.

"Dennis, how would you handle this calling situation?" asks Mr. Burkum in his evangelism class.

. . . for Service. . . .

"Now who can tell me about Alexander Campbell's life?" Mr. Milliken asks the students in Restoration History.

"Here's what we need!" says Marlene Edmonds as she and Nancy Christman look up a class assignment.

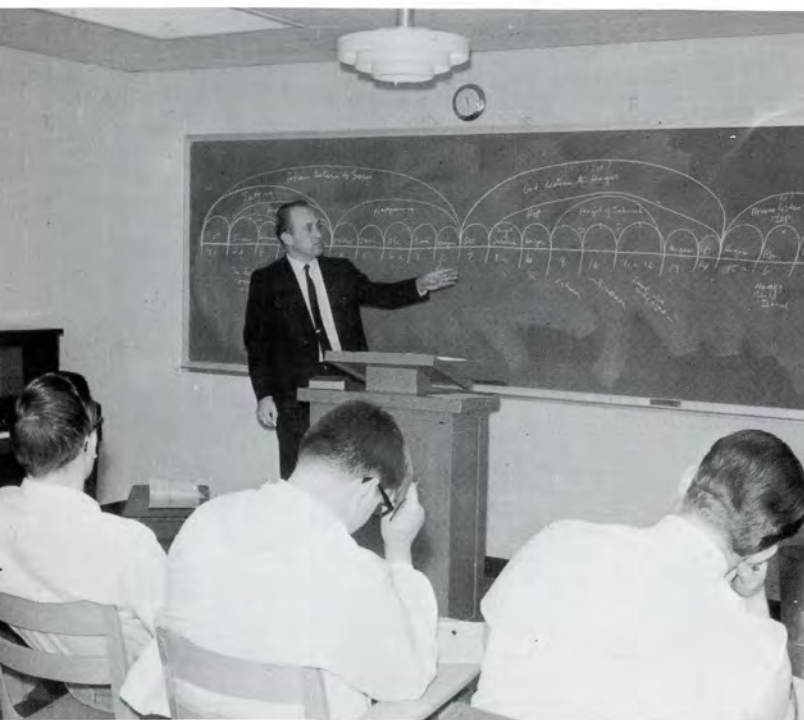

..... Through Study

"And this plaque goes along with the lesson for the third day," explains Mrs. Swedburg as her class prepares for summer DVBS.

Mrs. Swedburg gives many helpful hints in using visuals for teaching all age groups.

"Confused boys?" Mr. Miller explains an outline of the division of Genesis for his Old Testament Theology class.

"See, it's really not as hard as you thought," smiles Mr. Miller in one of his music classes.

"Mmmmmmm good!" Kay Burnham and Cheri Myers seem to be enjoying the picnic.

Building the Ministry

Professor Miller hands the banquet tickets to the Timothy Club officers.

A banquet was held in May for Timothy Club members and their dates.

The Timothy Club is an organization for college men interested in the ministry. Among various activities, are included workshops and banquets with well known speakers to encourage the students in the field of service.

The group enjoyed Jim Cunningham, minister to the Florence Christian Church in Omaha, as speaker at the banquet.

"Mil, I told you plasti tak wouldn't work".

Learning Together as

The Adelpian organization includes all women connected with the college. Formal gatherings are held for the group once a month to draw the women into a close bond of fellowship and give them an opportunity of service. Freshman students become more acquainted with the college, and the church women when a 'big and little sister' system as well as an 'adopted mother-daughter' system is set up.

Throughout the year, the organization planned activities including a program and visit to the state hospital, fixing up old toys to be sent to a childrens home, sponsoring of a Christmas caroling party, meeting held with the Timothy Club to discuss ways of improving study habits, a panel with Christain workers on the field, and a program and style show emphasizing a Christian wedding.

This represents just a few of the many activities that this active group takes part in.

Supporting Our Missions

Joy Evans headed the Missions Club this year as President with Carol Smith, Vice president; Joyce Lamberson, Secretary; and Carla Tegarden, Corresponding Secretary.

The goal of $2500 set for the chapel offerings was surpassed, and was used to aid several missionaries.

The Missions Club meets to discuss ways of emphasizing missions.

The Missions Club is responsible for the dispersion of the chapel funds, and also for contacting missionaries in the area to speak at the college. The missions committee sent mimeographed letters to 50-100 missionaries.

The club has also discussed the possibilities of using a gospel team to emphasize missions in the church and hope to put this plan into effect next year.

The Missions Committee was composed of Wes Thompson, Joyce Lamberson, Joy Evans, Carol Smith, Mike Searcey. Carla Tegarden was chairman.

Backing Our Team

The election of cheerleaders and the making of emblems for members began the activities of the Pep Club as they organized to back the Parsons during the basketball season.

During the year this group sponsored a concesssion stand during games and during the ccnvention. Proceeds were used to purchase a five ball basketball bag in school colors. With $225 that was left over the club voted to give the money to the Choraleers Robe Fund.

The cheerleaders lead in a short pep rally during the lunch hour.

Evey puts finishing touches on poster.

The officers and their sponsor discuss ways to promote the Pep Club.

Christian Witness Through Drama

Charles Evans, President leads the Drama Club with Beverly Sejkora, Secretary, Perry Donner, Corresponding Secretary, and Joyce Lamberson, Treasurer. Larry Phillipi was Vice President.

One of the annual functions of the Drama Club is the acting out of the Nativity Story.

This year the Drama Club chose the play "The Terrible Meek." Two casts were chosen so that more could take part:

Senior Days 1968 proved to be time packed with inspiration, fun, and friend-making. Over one thousand gathered from neighboring and distant states to hear Don Lonie speak Thursday night. The Watchmen Quartet led the music for each session. Guests were kept busy Friday by visiting NCC classes, preaching and music contests, and a special college orientation program.

The closing session Friday night started with a banquet at which Mr. Lonie spoke again. NCC's drama team presentation, "The Terrible Meek" fittingly ended the evening. A wonderful climax to Senior Days 1968 was the closing commitment service when twenty young people responded.

The Watchmen and Jubilaires joined forces during the Senior Days Banquet.

1968 Mr. and Miss International were Keith Dellenbach and Evelyn Horn.

"Step right this way for the greatest test of your intelligence," says Jim Price.

Japan and France were just a couple of the countries that were represented at the Penny Carnival sponsored by the Senior class. Classrooms were transformed into scenic settings representing foreign countries. Students could be found anywhere from watching a wedding skit to being held captive in the jail or stocks.

The evening ended with refreshments and devotions in the lounge.

"Money, please," says Henry to those who come in.

Time for refreshments!

Artistic Students Display Talent

Each spring Mrs. Swedburg's chalk art class presents a recital. Many hours are spent in preparation. During the recital musical specials are brought which go along with the theme of the pictures. This year a chalk talk was given by Mary Claude.

Water scenes, church scenes and worship scenes were drawn by the class.

Joy, Mary, Evey, and Mary Lou inspire audience with scenes of God's beauty.

Joy Evans practices drawing a picture before the evening program.

The audience continues to look on as another group from the class draws pictures of church scenes.

With Noah's Ark as the theme of the box social sponsored by the Annual Staff, the girls set forth to decorate & fill boxes with goodies. The boys came prepared to spend a few cents, but with the persuasive spirit of Phil Davidson as Mr. Noah, the boxes were auctioned off with enthusiasm, and the total funds at the end of the evening well surpassed $100!

"I'm from Texas," Keith explains to Noah.

"Going, Going, Gone. Sold to. . ."

"I'm NOT going to bid on any more!" says Don.

A spider, bale of hay, and bee were the prize-winning boxes.

"Mr. Noah had an ark. ei ei o."

Training VBS Workers

"God's Word - Today's Hope", 1968's VBS theme, was the central thought of the VBS clinic May 2. Visitors from many of the area churches came to find new ideas and aids which would help to make a more profitable Vacation Bible School for the students. Under the direction of Mrs. Swedburg, the Christian Education students held workshops for each of the age levels. In these workshops they discussed the characteristics of the age group, teacher qualifications, lesson helps, and handwork ideas. Other features of the day were a puppet show, banquet, and a closing dedication service.

"Nursery children are like this. . ." Sharon tells people in the nursery workshop.

"So this is how you put on a puppet show."

Visitors filled the halls between sessions at the clinic.

Teaching new songs is part of instruction given visitors as Sharon and Emery here demonstrate to the visitors.

Gospel Teams

Audrey McKean, pianist, Jim Price, Charles Evans, Sherry Price, and Diane Enders have been part of the 'Christian Heirs' quartet for the last three years.

NCC music students combined their talents to form trios, duets, and quartets, and were kept busy traveling on weekends with the faculty to area churches. During the week there were also several organizations in Norfolk that used NCC's music teams as a part of the program at their meetings.

The Killian twins, as promotional team, traveled regularly with Mr. Sapp. In October they traveled to Montana, North Dakota, South Dakota, and Nebraska for ten days promoting the new campus program.

All of the groups are a great asset to the promotion of the college and are a great witness to their Master.

Last years promotional team, the 'Gospel Aires,' are composed of Bev Benson, pianist, Gary Gleason, Annette George, Mary Lou Leatherman, and Jerry Dietz.

Betty Thomas, Verna McVey, Pat Sapp, and Pat Miller, pianist compose the 'Gospelettes' trio.

Promoting Christ

Elery & Emery Killian add variety to programs with their guitar. Accompanist was Audrey McKean.

De Tolen accompanies the 'Master's Singers', Bill Weber, Marlis Myers, Sharon Smith, and John Swedburg.

Verna McVey, Betty Thomas, Pat Miller, pianist, John Olson, and Ken Cooper comprise the 'Messengers' quartet.

Gospel teams unite in song in praise to their Lord.

Faculty Entertains Students

The students and area community were again thrilled with the talents of the teachers and faculty of NCC. This year two guest musicians were added to the concert: Mrs. Robert Wallace playing her violin and Mr. John Grossman, his cello.

Classical as well as gospel music was enjoyed by a large attendance.

NCC faculty participating in the concert were: Mr. Sorenson, Mr. Burkum, Mr. Miller, and Mrs. Miller.

Mr. Miller and Mr. Sorenson combined their talents in a piano duet.

The audience enjoyed Mr. Burkum's solos.

Mrs. Miller's beautiful voice thrilled listeners.

FORMALS

FLOOR PLAN

God's Coloring Book was the theme for the fall formal.

"God's Coloring Book:

Jim and Deanna Hackel were excellent emcees for the evening.

Jerry, Bill, Dale, and Norv were picked out of the audience to sing.

"And Cinderella went to her wicked step mother and..."

A Christain Life"

Pam Christensen and Marlene Edmonds served punch from the beautifully decorated table.

The Gospelaires prepared us for time of devotions.

"Now this is the way I see it. . .", Mr. Miller seems to be saying.

As is the usual practice, the first formal event begins with a Sadie Hawkins Day in which the girls ask their favorite fellow to the Fall Formal. Sponsored by the Adelprians, the committees put forth the theme 'God's Coloring Book' and emphasized various traits necessary as a Christian: "Color me faithful", Color me prayerful", "Color me happy", "and "Color me praising".

Jim and Deanna Hackel emceed the evening and introduced skits, musical numbers, and lots of jokes involving various students and a surprise number or two.

Alan Weber led in the devotional thought followed with refreshments served by the Adelprians.

Thoughts of Royalty

Are you brothers? . . . "Foolish Questions"!!!

Last year's royalty, Audrey and Jon, crown the new king and queen.

1968 NCC Royalty: Queen Cheryl Myers

A meeting of the decorum committee was portrayed in a skit by the faculty.

Magnify a Dream

and King Wes Thompson.

Gary Brown was commentator for a skit on historical news.

The Valentine Formal was a night of excitement and enjoyment as the new king and queen were announced. Gift bearers this year were Angela Burkum and Jimmy Milliken. As emcees for the evening, Emery & Elery entertained the audience with their humor and variety of songs.

'Will you be prepared for eternity?', was the theme of the reading given by Sharon Strunk followed with devotions by Dave Arnold.

Royalty and court: Carla Tegarden and Carol Smith (attendants), Queen Cheryl Myers, King Wes Thompson, Jerry Dietz and Jim Price (attendants).

Activities Show Perspective of Students

Seated at the head table were emcee George Keebler and his wife, and speaker Dick Bruner and his wife.

Cleverly written prophecies of the graduates were read by Charles Evans.

Jerry, Dale, Rollo, and Tom favored the group with... "Baby Face"??

The Spring Banquet was held amidst beautifully decorated surroundings of blue and silver and followed the theme "Jesus Set the Music Ringing." Crepe paper forming strings of a harp decorated the entrance to the banquet room, and miniature notes and harps finished the decor.

George Keebler did a fabulous job as emcee. Following the banquet, Dick Bruner, Sioux City, Iowa encouraged listeners to tune their hearts with God.

"Who said formal's weren't fun!"

Mr. Howard Roseberry of Gering spoke for chapel while here for First Christian Church revival.

Mr. Harry Bucalstein acquainted students with facts about the Jewish people.

Raymond Albers of Emmanuel Christian Seminary meets students following his chapel message.

Mr. & Mrs. Darrel Stanley, missionaries to Africa, were especially enjoyed by the college faculty and students.

. . .Our Focus on Prayer, and. . .

"LET NOT YOUR HEART BE TROUBLED"

Whenever I am troubled and lost in deep despair
I bundle all my troubles up and go to God in prayer. . .
I tell Him I am heartsick
and lost and lonely, too,
That my mind is deeply burdened and I don't know what to do. . .
But I know He stilled the tempest and calmed the angry sea
And I humbly ask if in His love
He'll do the same for me. . .
And then I just keep Quiet and think only thoughts of Peace
And if I abide in Stillness my "restless murmurings" cease.

- Helen Steiner Rice -

Students meet on Tuesday mornings for a few minutes of silent prayer together.

Prayer is an important factor in any class, special meeting, or discussion group.

. . .Participation in Services.

On Friday morning, students and faculty jubilantly sing hymns of praise during a chapel service.

Chapel services are held Wednesday evenings and Friday mornings. Students help in chapel by offering their services. Special speakers and homiletic students take turns in delivering the message for chapel.

Among several special programs during chapel was the preaching contest by freshman boys on "Why I chose A Bible College".

Mr. Quigley of the Optimist Club hands winning trophy to Gene as 2nd and 3rd place winners, Chet Shaw and Phil Davidson look on.

A big thank you to all who have made this 1967-68 yearbook possible! I especially want to express my appreciation to Peggy King, Stan Thornton, Lloyd Sapp, Larry Swanson, Voss Photo, and News Printing for their assistance. Without them many of the facets of this yearbook would not have been possible. Also a sincere thank you to Bryan Smith for his ever ready aid and personal interest, and to Mr. Burkum for being willing to again sponsor the yearbook and offer his help and advice.

Finally, I'm very grateful to the staff members for their long hours and patience. Their cooperation was indeed necessary to make this annual a success.

We hope you will enjoy and appreciate this 67-68 yearbook. It is about you and your college ---- a college dedicated to the service of God.
