Nebraska Christian College is Proud of Her Professors and Students

BILL MILLER is in his 25th year of teaching at NCC in the area of Biblical Studies.

Bill is helping to teach young people to be set free to serve.

He and his wife Dorothy will be going to South Africa this summer where Bill will be teaching with Bill Weber, who is involved with Urban Evangelism in South Africa.

IN THE COMMUNITY AND BEYOND

Inspiring Excellence

Never has there been a greater need for leaders with Christian ethics and values. Preparing people for leadership is a responsibility Nebraska Christian College takes seriously. As a private, independent college, we are able to respond to the needs of students and help students on a personal level to prepare to meet the needs of the world.

Nebraska Christian College graduates are positively influencing the communities in which they work and live — because their preparation is for a career and Life.

With the generous help of alumni and friends, Nebraska Christian College is continuing to educate leaders for the 20th and 21st century.

... The Direction They've Chosen

Cindy Nathan - Norfolk, Nebraska (below left)

"NCC has given me a wonderful opportunity to not only become closer to God, but also to become close in many relationships that I will treasure forever."

Julie Cook - Atlantic, Iowa (below right)

"I am really excited about being at NCC! God is blessing me through the education I'm receiving and through many special friends!"

Pat Ridpath - Lincoln, Nebraska

"My first year at Nebraska Christian College has helped me grow in my walk with the Lord in many ways. It has helped immensely in deciding what course to take after college and also has helped me in gaining a better understanding for God's will in my life through the study of His Word. I am excited about learning how to more effectively bring the Gospel message to a lost world and about sharing the love which I have experienced. I just praise God for guiding my paths to Nebraska Christian College."

Students Speak ...

Michele Zintz - Cross Plains, Wisconsin

"Trying to decide between a large university and a small college was hard for me. When I really started comparing though, I realized it was easy to give up some of the advantages of a bigger school for what I would gain at NCC. Since I've been here I've learned and grown a lot in and out of class. There is no doubt in my mind I made the right choice."

Tommy White
Los Angeles, California

"I chose to attend NCC for the purpose of taking just one year out of my life to learn more about God and the Bible. The first year was great and led to a commitment of graduating with a four-year degree. This school has so much to offer a person! It offers the challenge to anyone who steps on this campus to be the best person possible. There are many ways to grow — through music, studies, dorm life, athletics, service, etc. Once you experience life at NCC, you'll see what a fantastic choice you've made!"
